OUR PURPOSE—BETTER CATHOLICS AND

"As the twig is bent, so doth the tree incline."

Since those individuals who are the boys and girls of today are the group that will constitute the men and women of tomorrow, it is vitally necessary that youth be stimulated with Christian ideals during the formative days of adolescence.

Standards which are etched upon the young soul cannot be effaced. They protect the vulnerable human heart just as surely as the skin protects the body; they form a coat of armor that cannot be pierced by the Godless and immoral trends of this "modern" topsy-turvy age.

It isn't just the religion course with which we begin each school-day that places our school on a pedestal that cannot be touched by any other school system; we can't imagine that a thorough knowledge of the Catechism equips one thoroughly for the battle of life; it is the sterling ideals,

The School Building

When our good Bishop decided upon building a new Catholic high school it is apparent that he spared no cost in erecting it.

"Our School," located on the corner of Clinton and Lewis streets, is a beautiful brick structure, which takes up a quarter of a block. Our fifty classrooms, which include a library, cafeteria and gymnasium, have all new and modern equipment.

We Catholics can be very proud of our institution of learning for it ranks as one of the best in the state.

words of counsel, and silent influence of our good teachers that does more than any scientific study possibly could in molding strong, sturdy characters.

It is for the establishment of such firm characters and for the building up of immunity against the strong waves of opposition which beset the lives of all of us that Central Catholic High School is maintained.

In appreciation, we dedicate the 1941 "Echo" to our Beloved Bishop, whose guiding hand and inspiring example have been powerful factors in developing in us those principles which make Better Catholics and Better Citizens.

ADMINISTRATION

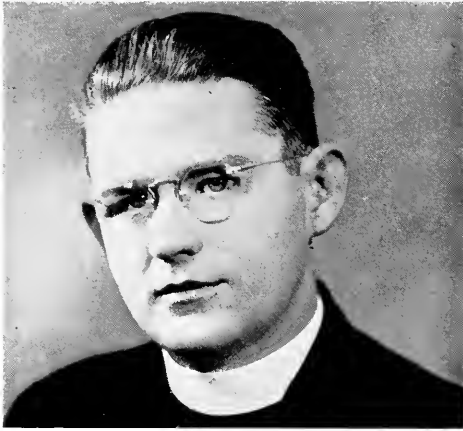

Just as mirrors reflect secrets unknown to the casual observer, our year book, the mirror of Central Catholic High School life, reveals the goal of her training. We see the efforts of the teaching staff and the co-operation of the student body through a well-planned program of activities—social, religious, and athletic—gradually moulding sterling Catholics and valuable citizens for time and eternity.

A Message from Father Conway

GREETINGS:

The members of the Faculty of Central Catholic hope they have contributed in some measure to the character and success of you graduates. It is our prayer that through future years in the service of God and state you will not be found wanting. The courage and self-confidence which you found necessary in school life will be even more necessary and more effective in the life you now face. A good citizen must possess these qualities in a high degree, qualities vitalized by a reliance upon Divine grace.

May this be our contribution to the glorious nation in which we now live and to the glorious kingdom in which we hope to live—this Nineteen Hundred and Forty-one Class of Better Citizens and Better Catholics.

Our Principal Speaks

When you, the students of Central Catholic High School, entered this school you came as Catholic boys and girls. Your Bishop and the faculty of the school are doing everything that is humanly possible to provide you with the training and opportunities that will make you BETTER CATHOLICS. To be a BETTER CATHOLIC means more than to profess to be a Catholic. It means to be fearless in defense of that faith, to be indefatigable in your efforts to make it known and loved by others who have not received this precious heritage, to be courageous enough to live exemplary lives and thus make others see how worthwhile it is to be a Catholic, and to develop to the limit your God-given talents so that they will make you to be leaders in Catholic Action. All this may be summarized briefly in the words, "Be Christ-like." Take Christ with you in your contacts with others at home, in school, in business or factory, and in your social life, and you need never fear that you are showing yourself to be a mediocre Catholic. To do all things as Christ would do them is a guarantee that when God in His Providence calls you to your Eternal Home, Heaven, you will be BETTER CITIZENS there because you were BETTER CATHOLICS here.

Fathers

With the building of a new school, the faculty of the Junior and Senior boys was changed. The teachers, priests, were educated at some of the finest Universities and Colleges in the country. Numbered among these schools are such famous names as Catholic University of America, Notre Dame, De Paul, Loyola, St. Joseph's, and St. Meinrad's.

The duties of these teachers as priests are extended beyond the limits of the class room. They participate in extra curricular activities such as athletic director, Shamrock adviser, Echo adviser, tennis and golf coach, dramatics director, head of Legion of Mary, and other activities.

We, the students, surely owe these priests a vote of thanks and gratitude.

Sisters of Providence

One hundred years ago courageous Mother Theodore Guerin and six fellow Sisters of Providence came from France to bring to America and especially to the Middle-West the long awaited Catholic culture of the Old World.

Six years later, in 1846, the Sisters of Providence opened the first academy in Fort Wayne at Calhoun and Jefferson streets and have ever since continued their apostolate of education in this city.

THE TEACHERS

When Central Catholic High School, in 1939, absorbed the two academies, Saint Augustine's and Saint Catherine's, the Sisters moved to the new school with their students.

Most of the Sisters receive their training at Saint Mary-of-the-Woods College; many continue their higher education at well-known colleges and universities throughout the country.

HELEN NICKRASH, '41.

School Sisters of Notre Dame

In September, 1939, two Sisters of Notre Dame were added to the teaching staff of Central Catholic, taking charge of the Commercial Department. In 1940, increased enrollment demanded the services of a third Notre Dame Sister in that department and another for Junior English and French classes.

The Notre Dame Sisters trace their foundation to 1597, when our Blessed Mother, dressed in the habit of a Sister of Notre Dame, appeared to Alix LeClerc begging her to educate the youth of her native France. On Christmas Eve, 1597, the first Notre Dame Convent was founded and during all the intervening years the Sisters have continued their teaching.

Training schools for the Sisters are maintained at Milwaukee, Baltimore, and Mankato. From these centers the Sisters enter various institutions of higher learning to equip themselves further for the teaching of Catholic youth throughout the world.

Students leaving Central Catholic are good Catholics, and because they are good Catholics, they are prepared to be leaders in the various circles in which they will move. Religious activities give them a respect for and a knowledge of divine law upon which all civil law is based; social and cultural activities give them the experience and poise which make successful leaders; athletic activities develop in them a spirit of sportsmanship and an appreciation of the advantages of teamwork. Religious, social, cultural, and athletic activities in Central Catholic thus build better Catholics and better citizens.

Our Spiritual

"GOD BLESS YOU

GOOD AFTERNOON"

FATHER MANOSKI. Spiritual Director

Every day, three minutes before dismissal, a short talk is given by Father Manoski, usually a consideration of some Christian virtue that he encourages us to develop. His inspiring words have helped many of the students at Central Catholic in their quest for virtue.

We likewise owe deep gratitude to our Most Reverend Bishop for providing the opportunity of fine spiritual counsel in the person of Father Gabriel, a Capuchin monk from Huntington. Every Tuesday students may be seen outside his little office near the northwest entrance, waiting to gain his counsel and direction.

We sincerely regret that no picture of Father Gabriel is included in this year's Echo. It was not possible to get his picture because he was confined in the hospital at the time the pictures were taken.

MARY GEISE, '41.

Directors Supervise Religious Activities

Under the guidance of Father Frawley and Sister Lawrence, another year of the Legion of Mary in Central Catholic High School comes to a close. This has been a full year for these tireless servants of Mary.

Their weekly work has been to visit the sick at Saint Joseph's Hospital, to place Catholic magazines in railroad stations, and to put out a weekly paper called The Patient's Weekly.

Recently they have undertaken a collection of Catholic papers and magazines to be sent to the army camps for the benefit of the soldiers. The members of the Legion are gratified to see with what success their last efforts have been met.

The two-fold purpose of the Legion is: First, the personal sanctification of the Legionnaires, and second, universal devotion to Mary. May devotions go far toward instilling in the hearts of all students in Central Catholic a deep and abiding love for God's Mother, and through Him, our Mother. The Legionnaires consider May devotions their most important work. By their examples of self-sanctification, they prove to us that it is not hard, but easy, to co-operate with grace.

The Legion of Mary has definitely become an institution at Central Catholic. This year's work has been more widely spread than last year's. We hope next year's work will expand even more. Thus they will build themselves up and will be prepared to meet any emergency that might arise.

THE STUDENTS' SPIRITUAL COUNCIL

"Great oaks from little acorns grow," is an axiom trite but true; modestly the Students' Spiritual Council made its initial appearance at Central Catholic early in the current school year. The Council consists of nine members, among whom John Maher and Carol Suelzer were this year elected president and secretary, respectively. Father Cross and Sister Mary Clare were appointed faculty advisers of the project.

All were encouraged by the enthusiastic student support of the first two projects, Guard of Honor and Christmas baskets for the poor, and felt that by mid-year the work of the Council was successfully begun. In February, Catholic Press Month, a special poster campaign stimulated interest in Catholic authors and literature. The work has continued, mainly through the medium of poster campaigns, and a gratifying measure of initiative and success has marked every activity.

At the close of this school year the Students' Spiritual Council looks ahead to next fall and new worlds to conquer for God and school.

RELIGIOUS TOPIC SPEAKERS

During the past year a religious essay contest was held at Central Catholic at the request of Bishop Noll.

The purpose of this contest was to acquaint the average student with some of the more frequently discussed topics of the day; that is, to acquaint him so thoroughly with some particular phase of religion that he would be able to speak on and defend that topic in a controversial discussion.

The contest was based upon the following three topics given by His Excellency: "Is One Church As Good As Another?", "The Bible" and "The Infallibility of the Pope."

Each Junior and Senior home room was given one of these three topics. The students then wrote essays of from six hundred to one thousand words on the respective topics given them.

The contest was carried out on an elimination basis. That is, the essays of three or four students were chosen from each home room. These students were sent to another home room where they read their essays before the members of that class. The best of these were chosen by a vote taken among the students of the home room in which they appeared.

The winners included the following:

Mary Emmanuel	Rosemary Fuhs	Marcella Rogawski
Carol Widman	Frances Solon	Fred Beckman
Gerald Putnam	Kathryn Kelley	Jack Sosenheimer
James Sternberger	Clotil Jokerst	Jewell Reader
Ann Adang	Alvin Herber	Vincent Giese
Patricia Kilkelly	Dan Reuille	Robert Lamont
	Josephine Barr

Of these, three students—Josephine Barr, Rita Scherschel and Jack Sosenheimer—were chosen to give their addresses before His Excellency, the faculty, and the student body.

The Bishop requested that Miss Barr and Mr. Sosenheimer give their addresses at a Regional Conference of the Catechetical Confraternity, held at St. Mary's College, Notre Dame.

Miss Scherschel gave her address before a Fort Wayne District meeting of the N.C.C.W.

JACK SOSENHEIMER.

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES MAKE BETTER CITIZENS

The aim of every school is to make better citizens. Since better Catholics make better citizens, it is evident that if the school makes better Catholics it makes better citizens.

C. C. students are provided with many opportunities to become better Catholics. An average of approximately two hundred boys and girls attend Mass every day in the auditorium, where a portable altar has been placed. Mondays and Wednesdays are special days for Freshman and Sophomore attendance; Tuesdays and Thursdays are assigned to Junior and Senior classes; Friday is general convocation day for the whole school, with about five hundred regularly receiving Holy Communion.

The priests of the faculty hear confessions every week for those who wish to go, and Father Gabriel, O.M., Cap., the spiritual director of the school, is in his office every Tuesday to do his share in making C. C. students better Catholics.

The annual students' retreat is held at mid-year. Reverend Thomas Brandon, O.S.C., Rector of Sacred Heart Academy, having conducted the exercises this year. Very evidently, the retreat makes many better Catholics; more than half of the student body approach the Holy Table each day of the retreat and practically all on the closing day.

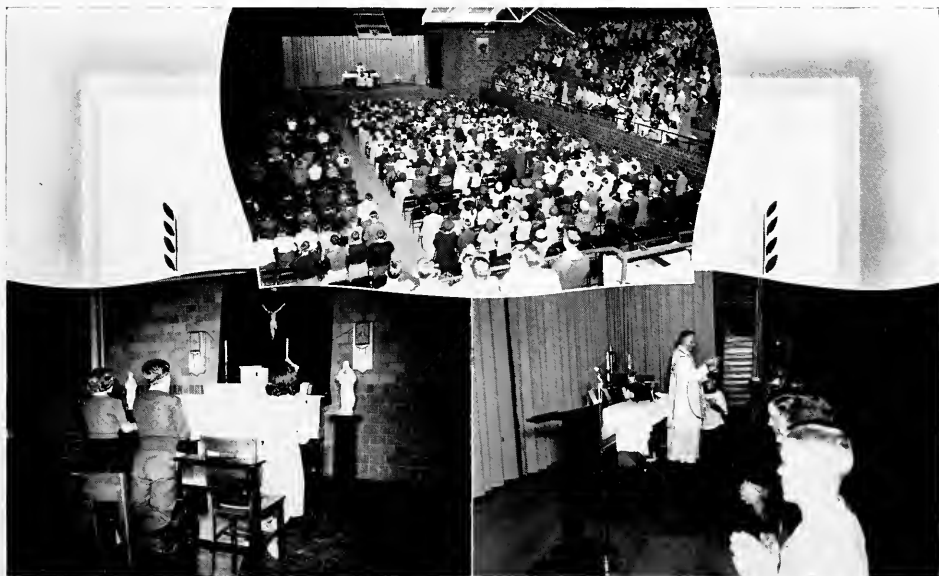

Many are the excellent three-minute talks given by Father Manoski at the end of each school day. These talks on the "Thought-for-the-Week" contain innumerable hints for our making better citizens of ourselves. Not less helpful are the talks given on Friday mornings after Mass by the priests of the faculty in turn.

Once this year we were privileged to hear the "Apostle of the Crossroads," Father Stephen A. Leven, Director of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

The Blessed Virgin Mary is often invoked to help make the students better Catholics. Devotions in her honor are held daily during the month of May just before the dismissal of classes. Members of the Legion of Mary lead the prayers and all join in singing a hymn to Mary.

Thus is the two-fold aim of Central Catholic accomplished; by making better CATHOLICS, our school produces better CITIZENS.

MARCELLUS JUNK.

Social and Cultural Activities

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

A student who takes part in the social and cultural activities of the school will in later life be active in the civic and business world and will thus be a considerable asset to his community. It is for this reason that Central Catholic encourages extra-curricular activities in the social and cultural fields. By these activities the school aims to develop in the student those qualities which make for good citizenship.

The student is permitted to assume responsibilities and thus acquires valuable experience in management. He learns the value of organization and co-operation; he learns how to conduct business with others. In other words, he learns how to apply the Catholic principles which he acquires in the classroom.

Many of these activities originate in the Student Council, an organization of leading students who co-operate with the faculty in conducting the affairs of the school.

Hold Student Interest

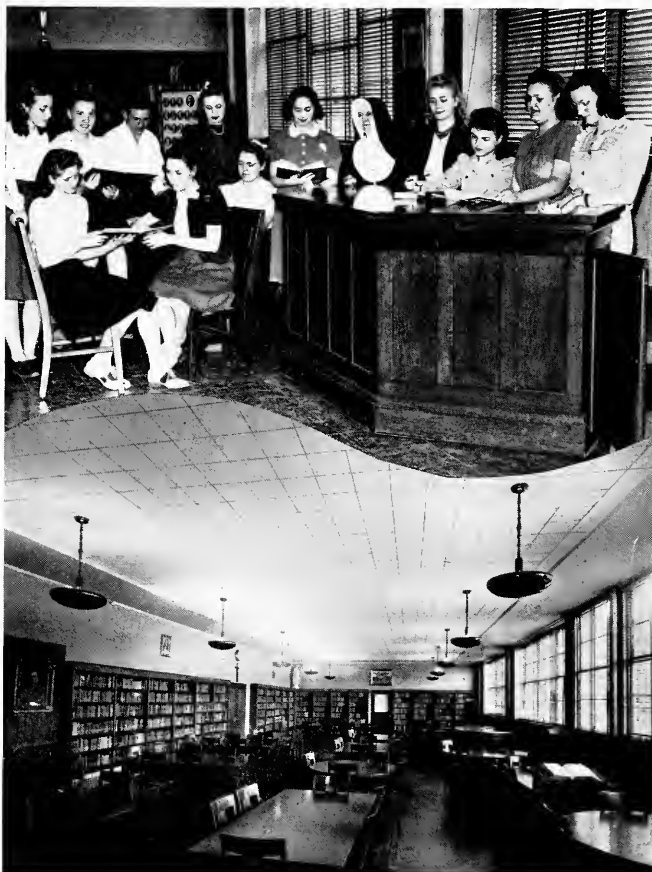

Promptly after Mass the doors of the busiest room in Central Catholic unlock to admit the inquisitive students looking for last minute information before attending classes. Soon every nook and corner of the library is filled with earnest boys and girls nose-deep in printed pages.

Ever ready to help us in our selection of books and in our research problems, Sister Alphonsus has an efficient student staff to share responsibility and increase efficiency in the library.

The last period in the afternoon is a bustle, when every shelf is eagerly scanned for that necessary book to finish an assignment before the dismissal bell rings.

As the large hands of the clock point to 3:45 p.m., preparations are made to close the doors of the busiest room in Central Catholic.

THE ECHO

The climax of each successful school year at Central Catholic is the publication of the high-school yearbook. The distribution of the Echo is an event that is anticipated the year round.

The Echo was originally a quarterly publication of old C. C. When we moved into our new building the need for a larger volume containing the combined activities of what once was several high schools could be recognized easily. In order to compose a book that would justly represent C. C.'s student body, it was decided to publish the book annually, instead of quarterly.

This 1941 issue of the new Echo is the third of its kind. Each year the staff tries to make the annual just a little better than it was the year before. By such effort the Echo will march through the years along with the principles of Central Catholic High School, ever growing in tradition and fame.

JEWELL READER.

SHAMROCK

The Shamrock does its share in helping to make the students of C. C. better citizens. Not only does the paper give future journalists opportunities for writing and composing, but it also teaches them that they must measure up to the responsibility of an assignment.

From the two-page class project, started by the Junior Class two years ago, the Shamrock has grown to fourteen pages with eight departments and about forty workers.

From the beginning of an issue there is hard work until the completed edition is distributed. The articles must be written, typed, stenciled, mimeographed, and the paper finally assembled and distributed. All is student work under the guidance of Father Cross.

The most popular page in the Shamrock is the "dirt" column. Every one is eager to see who is doing what. The sport page also has a following. The news page and the fashion sheet with their amateur art illustrations are also read thoroughly.

The newest feature of the Shamrock is the Students' Spiritual Council page, which gives helpful hints on how to become better Catholics.

All hope that the Shamrock will remain a tradition at C. C. and that it will eventually appear as a full page printed paper.

C. C. H. S. BAND

Our band, organized in November of 1959, has made great strides in the short period of its existence. It is composed of forty-one pieces and is rapidly growing bigger and better, this year's addition being a baton twirling corps. In a contest held here in April, our school was honored with a Class A rating for a band organized one year.

Wanting the band to look even more attractive next year, the student body staged another raffle, again a great success. Soon the members will be equipped with full marching regalia, ready to go proudly down the street in C. C.'s loved purple and gold.

We offer congratulations to Father Miller, the director of our band, and to Sister Mary Huberta; also to Mr. Wise, drill master, and to Mr. Amspaugh, instructor in twirling; finally, but heartily, to the members of the band and to the twirlers for their fine work.

MARY GEISE.

The Director
FATHER E. MILLER

Under the brilliant direction and supervision of Father Miller, and with Sister Mary Huberta's inspiring enthusiasm, our orchestra has become a joy to hear. At the tap of the baton the players come to attention; a nod of the head, a sway of the baton, and sweet music is heard.

The most remarkable thing about the success of our orchestra is the fact that it has been in existence for less than two years. Organized the first week in October of 1959, it has progressed rapidly in size and ability to fill the bill when music is called for. It is already an imposing group of thirty-four pieces.

In purple and gold capes and perky little caps, the orchestra appears repeatedly at assembly. Orchestral music has helped to make the plays, lectures, and other activities of our school this year a huge success.

We owe a vote of thanks to Father Miller, to Sister Mary Huberta, and to the members of the orchestra for the contribution they make to C. C. through their music.

MARY GEISE.

C. C. H. S. ORCHESTRA

GLEE CLUB

Our Glee Club, which made its debut at a concert on May 23, is our latest musical venture. It is composed of seventy members—twenty-two sopranos, twenty-one altos, thirteen tenors, and fourteen basses. In order to make up the personnel of this organization, the voices of all Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen were tested. This extensive testing, followed by careful consideration of vocal qualities, resulted in the selection of the seventy voices, charter members in C. C.'s Glee Club, organized and directed by our enthusiastic Sister Mary Huberta.

HELEN NICKRASH.

CAROLLERS

Several weeks of practice and generous sacrifice of free time prepared our seventy-five Christmas carol singers to spread cheer wherever they went.

In three chartered buses they visited the orphans at the Villa, our beloved Bishop, Saint Mary's, Saint Patrick's, and the Cathedral. They were accompanied by four students playing accordion, trombone, and clarinet.

A happy termination of their day was the privilege of singing at Benediction for the Sisters in the convent chapel at Saint Augustine's.

SCHOLASTIC MONOGRAMS

It has always been the aim of Central Catholic to graduate better citizens by giving the world better Catholics. All graduates of Central Catholic are good Catholics but the better Catholics are model students. By model students we mean those attaining a high average in intelligence, character, and religious training.

As a monogram is given athletes for good work in sports, so have the faculty placed a reward for fine work in scholastic activities. This award proves to be a great incentive for students to give honest effort towards school work; in doing so they unconsciously develop their character.

To possess one of these monograms the student must do better than average work in his scholastic endeavors. To receive a Scholastic Monogram a student must have attained the Honor Roll at least three times while maintaining a 90 per cent average in his conduct. The honor roll system, as we have it at Central Catholic, helps develop better personal character, and fosters good citizenship.

When a student receives a monogram, it is not the final reward for his efforts. Because he has built up his character, used his intelligence, and taken part in religious training, he will enjoy a much happier and useful life—he is a better citizen.

The Central Catholic Orchestra, under Father Miller's direction, played between the acts.

During the year several pep-stunts and special skits were put on by the members of the dramatic and public speaking classes. All enjoyed "The Gay Nineties" presented at the last pep session before the Indiana Catholic Basketball Tournament.

The dramatic year came to a triumphant close with the Senior play, "Youth Takes Over," directed by Catherine Johnson and her assistant, Marilyn Younghaus. The scenery was designed by Bette Lou Keckley and built by John Truemper, general engineer, and his assistants.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

With Joan of Arc as their inspiration, the members of the Second Year French class organized themselves into a club bearing her name—Jeanne d'Arc. The activities of this small but lively group are guided by its officers: Marcella Rogawski, President, and Josephine Barr, Secretary-Treasurer, under the direction of Sister Marie Angele, Faculty Adviser.

At the meetings of the club, held every other Friday, prizes are awarded to the brave souls who triumph in the working of puzzles requiring a wider vocabulary than most members possess. La Vie, a French newspaper, is regularly received and enjoyed at meetings.

The month of March marked the arrival of the long-awaited French pins—tiny shields bearing even tinier "41" guards. These attractive pins are worn day and night by their proud possessors, who revel in displaying them as evidences of higher learning.

JOSEPHINE BARR.

Realizing the fact that in "unity there is strength," the Senior and Junior Latin Classes of Central Catholic High School, under the diligent supervision of Father Cross and Sister Magdalen, united to form an organization known as the "Latin Club of Central Catholic," affiliated with the National Junior Classical League of Washington, D. C. The purpose in organizing such a club is to promote a keener appreciation of the practical and cultural value of the Latin language, and to interest therein all the students of Central Catholic High School. At the first meeting of the club, Robert Zuber, Kathryn Kelley, Paul Runyan, and Mary Jane Lauer were elected as officers assuming the following titles respectively: Consul, Co-Consul, Quaestor and Censor, with the first two presiding alternately at the regular monthly meetings. At the second meeting, a constitution was drawn up and put into effect. The members of the Club also named the following as aediles: Robert Connelly, Peter Kuttner, Elaine Schlebecker, and Patricia McDonald.

One of the highlights of the numerous activities of the Latin Club during its inaugural year was the initiation of the Sophomore Latin students into the Patrician rank of the Club.

At the present time about 350 members are enrolled in the Junior Classical League here at Central Catholic, this being the fourth largest group enrolled in the entire United States.

The Latin Club, being the first of its kind in Central Catholic, has met with unusual success in its first year and it is the earnest wish and desire of every graduating member of this organization that the Club will continue to flourish in the future as it has in the past and that it will fulfill as much as possible the cherished purpose for which it was so earnestly intended.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Today, when the voice of one man can sway thousands to good or evil, it is immensely important that high school students cultivate the ability "to think on their feet" and to defend a principle when attacked. Supplementing the regular classes in public speaking and dramatics at C. C. is the Mask and Wig Club, one of the most popular of the student organizations. More than a hundred applicants for membership survived a short but strenuous week of initiation in the fall.

Honor was brought to C. C. by Ralph Schumle, '42, who, winning the school oratory contest, represented Central Catholic at the Notre Dame Wrangler Club Contest and won the State Catholic Oratory Contest. He was victorious in the city, county, district and zone contest and finally placed second in the state oratory contest sponsored by the American Legion.

At the regular monthly meetings members of the club have practice in the principles of parliamentary law and after business is taken care of, they enjoy the remainder of the evening in companionship.

To encourage interest in amateur play writing and production, the Mask and Wig conducted this year a one-act play writing contest and awarded first and second prizes to Catherine Johnson and Maxine Halstein, respectively.

Throughout the year the members have taken active interest in all plays produced by the dramatic department.

On May 9 the Mask and Wig Spring lig was held at St. Paul's Auditorium; Bill Miller's Orchestra furnished the music.

All activities of the Mask and Wig have been under the watchful guidance of Father Schnurr, our moderator, assisted by the officers: President, Catherine Johnson; Vice-President, John Truemper; Secretary, Jewell Reader; Treasurer, Robert Connelly; Marshal, Robert Strack; Critic, John Schlebecker; Chairman of Piptamist Committee, Betty Lou Keckley.

ORATORY CONTESTS

Central Catholic's silver-tongued speaker, Ralph Schimmele, won or placed high in just about every meet this year in which he participated. In February and March, Ralph won the American Legion county, district, and zone contests and placed second in the state meet at Indianapolis.

Next came the Wranglers Club contest. The winner of the Junior-Senior Oratory Contest automatically received the invitation to participate. That was a little tougher for Ralph, since there were contestants from three states entered. He won the Indiana State Catholic championship and placed fourth in the Tri-State finals.

Ralph's total awards were as follows: Ninety dollars in cash and four medals, which he keeps; two plaques, one cup, and one certificate of award which go to the school.

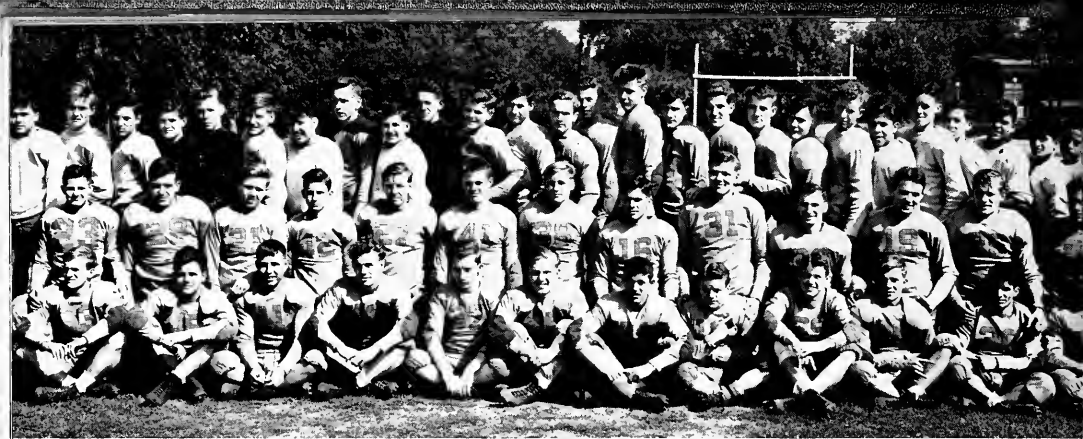

MARCELLUS JUNK.

COURTESY WEEK

From November 11 to 13, "Courtesy Week" was held at Central Catholic. To aid the students in becoming more courteous, Father Conway secured four speakers who addressed the student body during the week: our Most Reverend Bishop Noll, who gave the opening talk; Emmet "Red" Ormsby, the big league umpire, who spoke on "Courtesy in the Sports World"; Mr. Louis Crosby, City Comptroller, who spoke on "Courtesy in Public Office"; and Mr. Joseph Crowley, C. C. alumnus, who spoke on "Courtesy in Business."

As a further means to promote courtesy in practice, a contest was staged by the Student Council. Officers of the Council voted that Anne Cameron and Fred Berghoff were the most courteous students at C. C. during Courtesy Week, as we testify that they are the year round. They were duly rewarded with plaques, and their pictures were printed in the local papers.

MARCELLUS JUNK.

What We Want Is —

Through no fault of the players themselves, the 1940 football campaign did not live up to early expectations. This year C. C. sent an improved team out on the field but failed to win as many games as last season. The opposition improved also since last year and consequently our victory column looks rather unimpressive.

However, we cannot judge a season merely by its "won and lost" record; if a team fights its best, no season can be called a failure. In this sense, our football season was not a failure.

Looking back over the year, we find that twelve lettermen returned for last season's games; eight seniors will not be on hand for next year's games.

JOHN LEVICKI

When John Levicki accepted the position as coach at Central Catholic, we didn't quite realize we were getting a miracle man but he was just that. In the short space of time since he came here in 1937, he has given us two state and two national championships in basketball. While his football record isn't quite so brilliant, he has done well with the material presented to him. He easily qualifies as the best coach in C. C. history.

But now, although it seems we have just met him, we are losing him. Our loss is St. Ignatius's gain for there, in Cleveland, he will take up his new duties. We regret his leaving, but with his hundreds of friends, we wish him success in his new field and ask a kindly remembrance of old friends here at C. C.

WILLIAM NEIDHART.

More Wins!

The toughest team the Irish encountered was North Side, who later turned out to be the Mythical State Champions. C. C. hit their peak against Decatur, defeating them 27-6.

While brilliant play was shown by many throughout the course of the season, we think it only right to congratulate especially Captain John Maher and Bob Burns for their continual good play.

A great share of credit, too, should go to Father Wirtz in his untiring efforts for the team.

In Victory and Defeat—

Although our basketball team was not as successful this year as it has been in the past two years, it was, nevertheless, a team of which we may all be proud. This year's aggregation was fast, clever, and well-balanced, but not consistent. During the regular season, the "Fighting Irish," under the capable leadership of Bob Heiny, won 14 and lost 6 games, compiling a total of 711 points to their opponents' 640. One of their most prized victories was the 55-29 score in the contest with South Side of Fort Wayne.

Fort Wayne was again selected in March as the site for the Indiana State Catholic Tourney. This year C. C. was defeated in its first game by Memorial of Evansville. The boys just couldn't hit their stride in this encounter. Coach Levicki tried several combinations without avail. They had bad luck not only on the field, but also on the charity lane, making only 4 out of 15 attempts.

Nevertheless, the team went to Chicago to defend their National Championship with renewed hopes of victory. Displaying top-notch basketball ability, they registered victories over Superior, Wisconsin; St. George of Evanston, Illinois; and Holy Rosary, Pine Ridge, South Dakota.

In their fourth game, however, against Leo of Chicago, tradition and fate caught up with them, extinguishing all hope for permanent possession of the Cardinal Mundelin trophy. Baranowski, diminutive Leo leader, with only 20 seconds remaining, dropped in a fielder, giving to Leo a well earned 28 to 27 victory.

Thus the 1941 basketball season came to a close. Although the boys are not champions in the eyes of the public, they are true champions in the eyes of C. C. students and fans. Though they played many games with the odds and breaks of the game against them, yet they persevered, always displaying true sportsmanship and fine ability.

If these boys play the game of life as they play the game of basketball, they will always be a source of pride to their Church and to their community.

MONOGRAM CLUB

Twenty-five athletes were awarded monogrammed "C" sweaters for their athletic endeavors during the past season. When we see these boys proudly displaying their sweaters, we never stop to think of the hard work that they have done and the free time that they have given up to practice their particular sports in order to bring victories and glory to C. C.

Of this group of twenty-five, twelve will be back next year to continue their work in the athletic field.

Not only did this athletic activity build stronger bodies, but it also taught the boys the essentials of sportsmanship so necessary to a better citizen.

The two major teams of last season were fortunate in having two capable boys as their captains. John Maher, football captain, and Robert Heiny, basketball captain, led their teams to the best of their ability.

Before we ring down the curtain on the high school playing career of the Senior athletes, we want to thank them for all the entertainment and thrills that they have provided for us.

MARCELLUS JUNK, '41.

OUR STUDENT MANAGER

Not enough credit and thanks can be given to Fred Berghoff for his untiring efforts as Student Manager of athletics for the past three years. His job was an unheralded one, yet it demanded more responsibility, harder work, and longer working hours than any task undertaken by any other student. At times Fritz was forced to be stern and cross with the athletes with whom he worked, but any one who had any contact with him during the past years will tell you that a more likable or co-operative fellow than Fritz can not be found.

JOHN KARTHOLL, '41.

CHEER LEADERS

Hats off to our cheer leaders who, realizing the value of an enthusiastic cheering section in inspiring a team to victory, have done their best to develop that enthusiasm in Central Catholic students: (Capt.) Don Didier (missing), John Schlebecker, Rosemary Fuhs, Helen Hageman, Ervin Armstrong.

VINCENT GIESE.

ATHLETIC TROPHY WINNERS

By winning the Doctor King trophy, which is annually awarded to the student from each high school showing the best all-around mental attitude, John Kartholl proved that Central Catholic students are true sportsmen in every field of athletics.

As a tribute to his basketball playing ability and sportsman-like attitude, Bob Heiny, Captain of Central Catholic, was placed on the all-star team, which is selected each year in Chicago during the National Catholic Tournament.

Robert Burns, who gained national honor as the Golden Gloves Welterweight Champion of the United States, received a trophy to be prized more highly than all others, the Barney Ross Welterweight Sportsmanship Trophy. Bob was selected from 44 centers of the United States as the young man showing the best mental attitude of the welterweight division. He has certainly brought honor to our school.

James Poitras, a Junior, was the fourth C. C. student to be honored for true sportsmanship. Jim was awarded the Journal-Gazette Golden Gloves sportsmanship trophy in Fort Wayne.

Boys like these are to be admired most because they symbolize those qualities which make better Catholics and better citizens.

A sportsman-like attitude is to be prized even more than victory, because, as the old saying goes, "It is not whether you win or lose, but the way in which you play the game that counts."

Sportsmanship will always prove to be a valuable ally in the battle of life.

TENNIS

Unnoticed perhaps by many students of Central Catholic, our tennis team under the direction of Father Gollner has been making an enviable record for itself and the school. In last year's play, while our football and basketball varsities were trying in vain to defeat one of the city schools, Central Catholic's racquet wielders took the measure of both Central and North Side while losing only to South Side. The season's record showed six wins against two losses.

The chances of C. C.'s having a winning combination again this year seemed somewhat slim because only one letterman had returned from last year's squad. However, a call for try-outs resulted in the formation of a team that has carried on in the noble traditions of the past. Led by Captain Tyke Hartman, the team numbers Dick Phillipp, Jack Kearney, Jack Sosenheimer, Bud Gildea, and Ed Greven.

GOLF

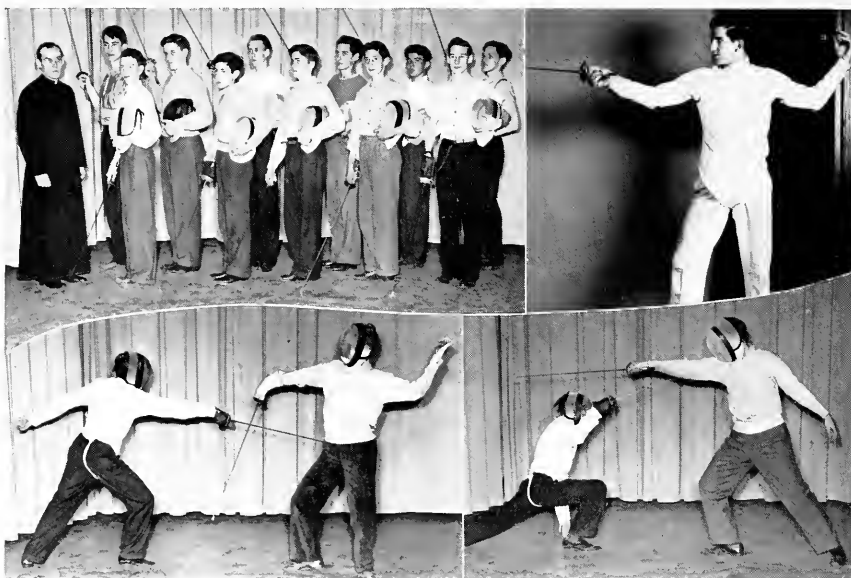

In the past years C. C. was without a golf team; recently, however, an enthusiastic organization has been emerging. Last year's team, organized under the supervision of Father Wirtz, had a schedule which included only two matches, both with Central. Since Central has the reputation of having one of the strongest teams in the district, we felt proud to win one of those two matches. This year, however, our schedule includes six matches: two with Central, two with South Side, and two with Elmhurst. Thus far, two of the six matches have been played, C. C. winning both by overwhelming margins.

It is our earnest desire that by building strong and competitive golf teams, a tradition of supremacy in that sport be established at C. C. along with popular interest in basketball. We whole-heartedly encourage the boys who are coming up and who think that they may have a chance to make the team, to try out in future years.

This year's team includes: Jim Sternberger, Bob Sternberger, Tom Carr, Dick Blauvelt, Bill Herber, and Jim Houlihan.

FENCING

"Les Hommes de l'Epee," or "The Men of the Sword," is the name of the fencing club formed by Father Schnurr this year. The members of the club progressed rapidly under the direction of Mr. Samuel Sturniolo, who had been coach of fencing at Indiana Tech. With a late start this year, they were unable to schedule any outside matches; however, next year Father Schnurr intends to schedule matches with as many schools as possible. We are sure that the fencing team next year will be really formidable.

The officers elected for the current year were: John Schlebecker, President; Thomas Blackwell, Vice-President; Robert Huguenard, Secretary-Treasurer; and Ralph Schimmele, Marshal.

There are strict rules in regard to the handling of blades, and every precaution is taken that no one be hurt.

Two medals, one for first place, and one for second, are to be awarded. Since every man must compete with each of the other members, the results of these matches will not be known until after the Echo deadline; whatever the results, we congratulate the winners.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

The year 1940-41 proved to be a banner year as far as the intramural basketball program was concerned. Never before have more students participated, more games been played, or more thrills enjoyed as in the games this season.

The intramural league, playing their games at the Community Center gym, were composed of senior and junior home rooms, and a faculty team. When the league ended we found Rooms 515 and 400 tied for first place. In the playoff that followed Room 515 was the victor by the score of 20-18.

Next came the interclass tournament with the Lightweights, the Freshmen and Sophomore, as well as the Heavyweights taking part. Each division had its own individual champion.

In the Heavyweight division Room 515 was again the champions, this time defeating Room 511 in the finals, 32-14. In the Lightweight division it was a promising group of Sophomores from Room 509 who took the title, defeating Room 207 in an overtime, 27-25.

Not enough credit can be given Father Gollner for his untiring effort in establishing a good intramural program. We only hope they can all be as successful as was the one this year.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

In every American high school students are enthusiastic about athletic activities and in this respect Central Catholic girls are no exception. The Girls' Athletic Association of C. C. H. S. has made rapid progress under the able guidance of our moderator, Sister Marie Angele. This year's officers have displayed real leadership during the past year: Marjorie Suter, President; Patricia Kelly, Vice-President; Patricia McDonald, Secretary-Treasurer; Marjorie Disser, point-secretary.

The first activity listed on our sport calendar was a hike to Devil's Hollow. On the eventful day, November 22, in the crisp autumn air, twenty girls took part in this healthful outdoor sport. As spring approached, the plea for more hikes came frequently from the lips of members of the Association. On Easter Monday, April 14, thirty-five lively girls hiked to New Haven. Happy memories of these excursions will remain long after school days are over.

On December 4, Bell's Rink was the scene of a gay, friendly party sponsored by the G.A.A.

The laurels of this year's basketball season go to the baffling, hardworking Junior team. The games, closely contested, showed enthusiasm and friendly rivalry among all classes. The winning

STUDENT BODY

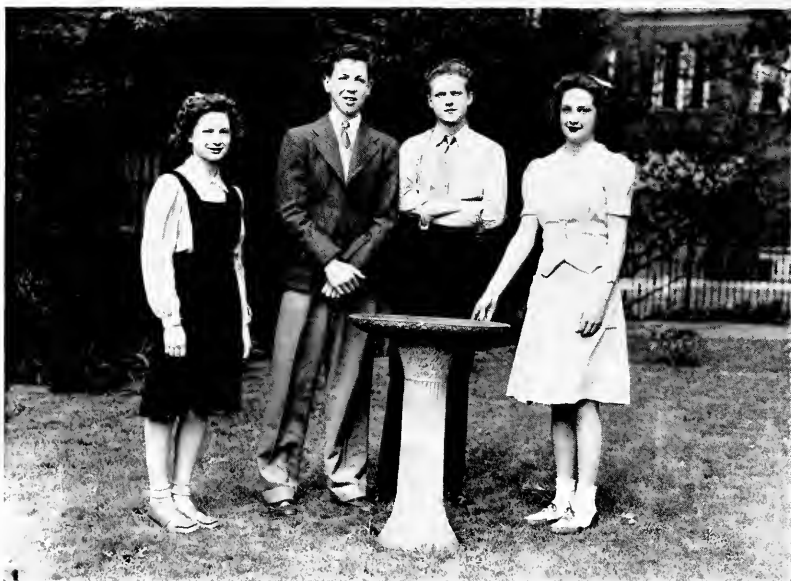

On all sides today we hear the plea for better citizens. How shall we obtain them? The answer is simple —through the medium of education. There is an old axiom: "A city is as good as its school."

A well regulated classroom is a small commonwealth with leaders, student officers, student citizens, and laws to be observed for the benefit of all. In our Catholic schools the study of religion shows us our duty toward God and our neighbor; we learn how to live, to recognize others' rights as well as our own.

Finally, the classroom affords an opportunity in our intercourse with fellow students to put into practice the principles we have learned. Thus studies prepare us to take our places in this great commonwealth as its most effective citizens.

CLASS HISTORY OF THE FRESHMEN

Freshmen Daze

Amidst the clamoring of the upper classmen, there appeared in the halls of Central Catholic in the Fall of 1940 a new group of "greenhorns." Coming from all directions, they assembled in the auditorium, where they were divided into groups under the guidance of their home-room teachers. After explaining to these youngsters the purpose of going to high school, the teachers settled down to the task of imparting knowledge to the "freshies."

Periods flew by and soon came the familiar sound of the school dismissal bell. The "freshies," somewhat dumbfounded, walked slowly and hesitatingly to their lockers and after trying three or four times, succeeded in opening the locks. Having placed their books within the metal safe, they scrambled on their way home.

Days went by and soon the "freshies," accustomed to C. C. rules, were eager to join in extra curricular activities.

Freshmen in Action

The first thing that they did was to choose a boy and a girl from each home room to run for class officers. At an early assembly of all freshmen, votes were cast and counted, with the following results:

Daniel Kelly.....	President
Mary Lou Roberts.....	Vice-President
Lois Walker.....	Secretary
John Zwierko.....	Treasurer

Later, when the Student Council was established, each teacher selected a pupil from her home-room for this council. The freshman membership is eight—four boys and four girls:

101—Richard Widman	105—Gertrude Rogowski	202—Paul Christie
103—Joan Hartman	200—Jack Shovlin	308—Phyllis Conroy

Showing the Upperclassmen

The Freshman attitude toward the music department is indeed inspiring. Under the guidance of Father Miller, these underclassmen have increased the orchestra not only in quantity but also in quality. The Freshman members of the orchestra are:

Mary Ann Herber
Therese Emanuel
Richard Hartman

Gertrude Rogowski
Jeanne Lamp
Deveda Hebb

James Kartholl
Betty Neuer
Rita Fox

Even more numerous were those who came out to enter the marching band:

James McClintock
James Vachon
Cecilia Murphy

Betty Neuer
Rita Ann Fox
Deveda Hebb

Carl Breman
Ralph Giese
Francis Herber

Carl Reed
Richard Hartman

Those who especially edified the upperclassmen by their co-operation in joining both the band and orchestra are:

Betty Neuer

Rita Ann Fox
Deveda Hebb

Richard Hartman

With the new marching band, the need for baton twirlers was announced and competent Freshman artists immediately offered themselves:

Doris Borkenstein	Betty Skevington	Alice Macey	Mary Stanford	Roseanne Schnieders
Mary Lou Roberts	Paul Ueber	June Fitzgerald	Helen Berghoff

After seeing how wonderfully the "freshies" turned out for these activities, the music teacher, in an attempt to form a glee club, called again upon the Freshmen. The result was enormous.

From all rooms came continuous string of sopranos, tenors, and yes, a few bassos. After much "trying," the following were selected to represent the Freshman Class in the newly formed Glee Club:

This year more than any other, it has been noticed, that Central Catholic has been in the news. Some of the "freshies" who merited publicity are:

Mary Hughes, Room 200, who received $20 cash award in Our Sunday Visitor religion contest.

Jane Rush, Room 202, who won second place in the essay contest conducted by the Weights and Measures Commission. The subject of her essay was the "Value of the Weights and Measures Commission to the Community."

Freshmen in the Sports-Light

The Freshmen fared pretty well in the intramural basketball tournament, with Room 308 reaching the semi-finals by defeating two Sophomore teams. The "freshies" can be depended upon to give a good showing again next year.

Without any urging, they turned out for basketball and brightened our hopes for future years. These "freshies" are:

James Kartholl
John Zwierko
James Lee
Edward Tourney
Jack Danehy

Bill Moyer
Jack Groteau
Joe Maher
George Beckman
Leonard Jacquay

Bill Snider
Leslie Willig
Richard Lerch
Jack Muldary
Jerry Henry

For spring football practice the "freshies" turned out in even greater numbers:

George Flory
Bud Lill
Dan Kelly
Bob Roach
Jim Zurzola
Stanley Sorgen

Richard Lerch
Zéno Nix
John Zwierko
Gaylord Lemish
Stan Golembeski
Tom Biesada
Jack Croteau

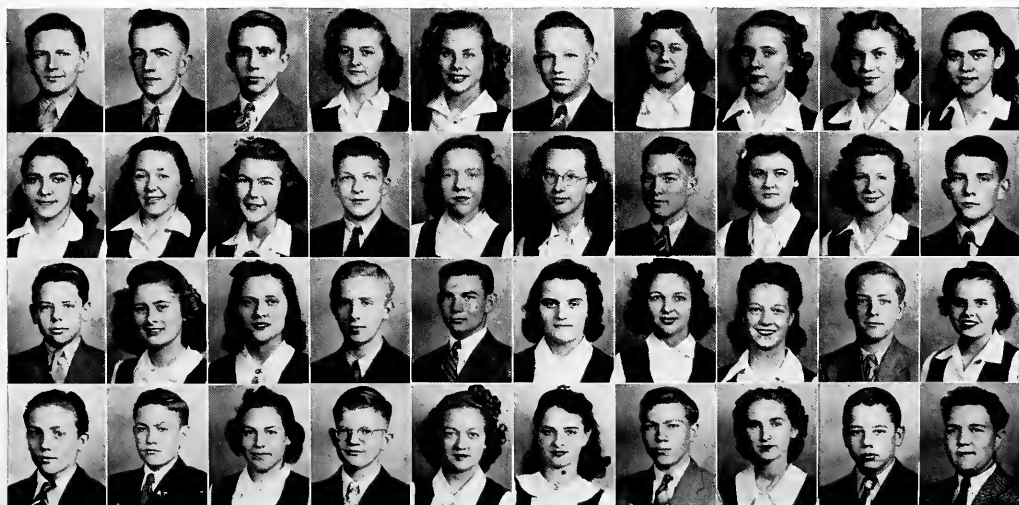

John Lembrach
Dick Widman
George Beckman
Don Chandler
Jack Waltke
Joe Leon
Bill Zimmer

The girls, moreover, were not less interested than the boys. They immediately caught the spirit of the C.A.A. and turned out in great numbers to join the group:

Dolores Bailey
 Catherine Beyer
 Helen Bubb
 Pat Callahan
 Bette Drennan
 Rita Mae Gerardot
 Eileen Hilker

Jean Jenkenius
 Georgiann Hilker
 Theresa Hook
 Marilyn Hoy
 Joanne Jansen
 Ruth Johnson
 Mary Ann Rauner

 Mary Jean McNulty
 Betty Menefee
 Mary Ellen Moyer

Mary Margaret Moyer
 Cecilia Murphy
 Betty June Neuer
 Edie O'Rourke
 Marjorie Perry
 Rita Sanders
 Rowena June Snyder

While the Freshmen were busy with religious, social, and athletic activities, they also showed great scholastic ability. Twenty-one "freshies" are now proudly displaying scholastic monograms and we are sure that their success will urge others towards greater heights. They are:

William Hodde
 Luella Bobay
 Eileen Huber
 Patricia Vodde
 James McClintock

Rita Marie Gerardot
 Irene Nompfer
 Rita Weaver
 Dolores Jehl
 Ruth Johnson

June Fitzgerald
 Mary A. Scheffer
 Richard Widman
 Phyllis Conroy
 Mary C. Black

Joan Hartman
 Edward Muldoon
 Mary Ellen Mettler
 Mary Vorndran
 Alexine Banet
 Rita Ann Fox

No! We cannot call the "freshies" green any longer. By their fine example of co-operation in all activities, they have shown and proved to us that they will be capable of carrying on the ideals of Central Catholic even after they are out of school.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS

Louise Suelzer, Secretary; Leo Laier, Treasurer; Ann Bley, Vice-President;
James Skevington, President.

HISTORY OF THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

June, 1941, finds the Sophomore Class half way to its destination, deeply indebted for this year's successes to a group of competent officers:

James Skevington.....	President
Ann Bley.....	Vice-President
Louise Suelzer.....	Secretary
Leo Laier.....	Treasurer

The record for this school year shows a large number of Sophomores among the scholastic monogram winners:

Jack Arnold	Richard Goetz	Clara Kelker	William Oberwitte
Frank Avila	Carl Grothouse	Alfred Kohne	Paul Peckham
Margaret Degitz	Alberta Harber	Leo Laier	Charles Poinsette
Jane Fenker	Lorene Hoevel	Monica Lomont	Lozetta Putnam
Donald Freistroffer	Mary Jehl	William McClintock	Dolores Sorg
Mary Ann Gibson	Patricia Jockel	Rita Meehan	Jack Soshea
Alice Giere	Patricia Kaliker	Carol Nussbaum	Marjorie Younghaus

Sophomores on the Spiritual Council have worked earnestly to make the attractive posters which we have had this year, to remind us of our spiritual duties.

In athletics, the Sophomores have certainly not been idle. They have contributed to the team a varsity basketball player, Bert Keenan, who ranks among the best. Sophomore football players are:

Jim Skevington

Bob Woenker

Frank Avila

Dick Ostman

Orland Zurzolo

Jim Miller

Jim D'Angelo

Roy Brown

Harold LaMaster

Jim Hayes

The girls, not to be outdone in the athletic field, made a good showing, too. In the annual intramural basketball tourney, the Sophomore girls defeated the Freshman team. Those who played on the winning team were:

Rita Von der Haar

Katherine Saxon

Katherine Leto

Lois Kintz

Esther Renner

Several members of the G.A.A. earned the number of points required for the triangle emblem:

Katherine Saxon

Patricia Johnson

J U N I O R S

CLASS HISTORY OF JUNIORS

Perhaps there has never before been enrolled at Central Catholic, a group more ambitious and spirited in all activities than the present Junior Class. Entering the new school in 1938 as the first and up to the time the largest class privileged to do so, they immediately began to settle down and in three years have sent a large number of outstanding representatives into the various scholastic and extra-curricular activities of the school.

The four members chosen to lead the Junior Class during the 1940-1941 school year were:

Robert Huttinger.....	President
Mary Jane Berghoff.....	Vice-President
Richard Krouse.....	Treasurer
Catherine Schone.....	Secretary

In addition to these class officers, the following Juniors were elected to the Student Council:

Robert Walker
Donald Weber
Paul Runyan

Mary Jane Lauer
Peter Kuttner

Rita Bobay
Joan Arnold
Rosemary Fuhs

Athletic ability seems to be characteristic of the Junior Class. Junior boys especially recognized for their ability in football were:

Walker
Hageman
Krouse

Larrimore
Luther
Schuler
Gladieux

Dehner
Offerle
Huttinger

Those who burned up the hardwood court during the regular season and who courageously attempted to win again the National Catholic High School Basketball Championship were:

Walker
Gladieux

Dehner

Larrimore
Krouse

Those who selected the orchestra as their special interest were:

Mary Emanuel
John Giese

Elaine Schlebecker

Lucille Hartman
Paul Runyan

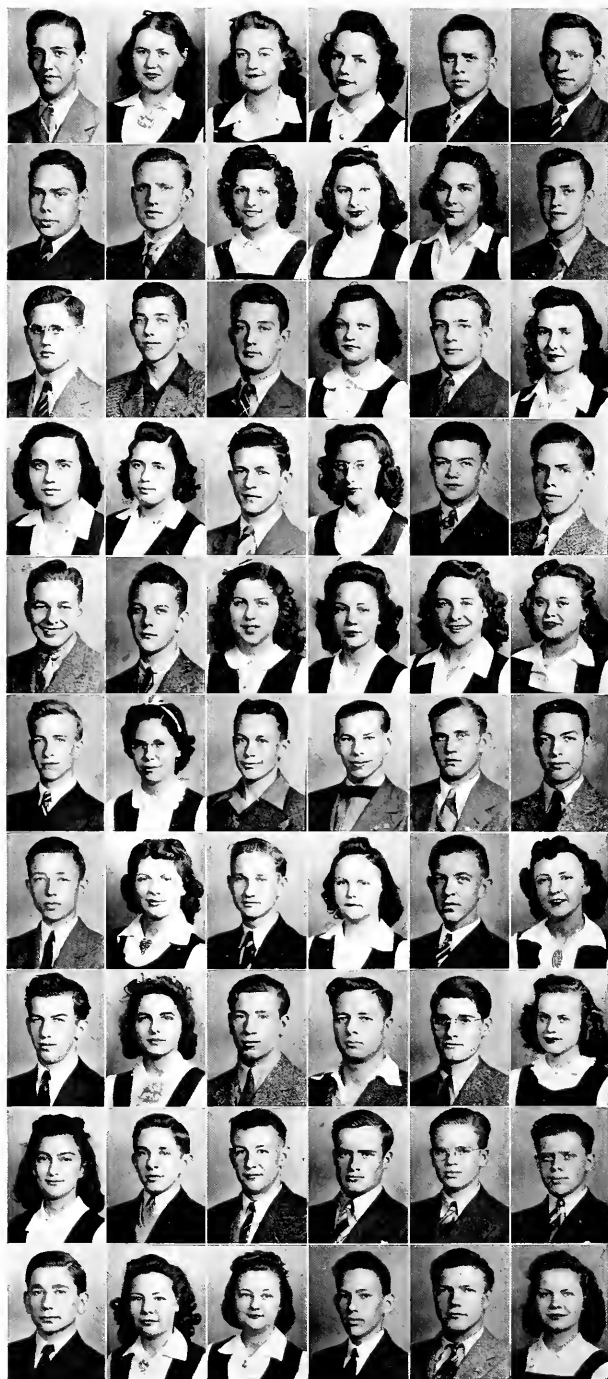

First Row: Abbot, Ilene; Adang, Ann; Alter, Frank; App, Bob; App, Sally; Arend, Basil; Armstrong, Ervin; Arnold, Jean; Aubrey, Jean.

Janice Blue	Lucille Ueber	Mary Jane O'Brien
Helen Callahan	Marjorie Hipkind	Dean O'Rourke
Roslyn Didier	Joan McArdle	Delores Reiger
Mary Margaret Freiburger		Carol Suelzer

The monthly issue of the Shamrock depended largely upon the efforts put forth by the following members of the Junior Class:

Patricia O'Connor	Martha Wemhoff	Roslyn Didier
William Curtin	Jean Aubrey	Lucille Ueber
Mary Steigmeyer	Catherine Schmieman	Florence Baker
Joseph Wilkinson	Mary Catherine Leger	Janice Blue
George Benning	Paul Gallogly	Dean O'Rourke

Highlighting the social functions of the Junior Class was a skating party held at Bell's Rink the night of May 7.

Thus another Junior Class moves on. If these Juniors face the future with the same spirit they have shown in the past, their place among Catholic leaders will indeed be a notable one.

VALEDICTORIAN AND SALUTATORIAN

As the Senior parade of 1941 gingerly marches toward the goal of graduation we find Gerald Putnam and Roseanne Gase proudly leading the stalwart group as valedictorian and salutatorian. It has been a rugged route over which these students have led their little group for four long years—many have been the stumbling blocks and high have been the hills—but the joy of seeing at last at the end of the journey the highway of life outspread is reward enough for any effort.

JEWELL READER.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

True to tradition, we were green and cocky freshies upon entering high school in September, 1937. It wasn't long before we were green no longer—but neither were we cocky. Our first year was highlighted chiefly by joining the Mission Club and by our perpetual bows to the Seniors. The lassies joined the G.A.A. and the laddies turned out in large numbers for football and basketball practice. We thoroughly enjoyed ourselves, seldom thinking of graduation except as a misty goal in the far distance.

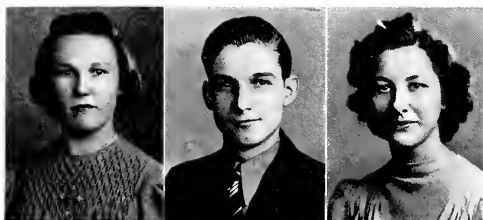

It wasn't long until we had climbed the first high hill and reached "Mount" Sophomore. Rosy visions of life in our new school consumed most of our thoughts. We assumed a dignified, grown-up air after attending our very first dance—the tea-dance in the gym. As the first semester drew to a close, we couldn't decide whether to laugh or cry as we left our old schools to enter the new C. C. The second part of the year found us wandering about shiny, new halls in wide-eyed astonishment. In February we brought out our fifes and drums to welcome home the National Catholic Champs. In no time at all June arrived and vacation was officially acclaimed.

We tore June, July, and, finally, August, off the calendar, then gaily gathered up our pencils and books to start our careers as mighty "upperclassmen." We shyly entered public speaking and dramatic classes, and surprising numbers of our group made public appearances during the year.

When monogram time came, our class was creditably represented in all fields of endeavor. Some of us gave our spare time to Dramatic Club activities, other to band and orchestra. We had the time of our young lives whirling around at our Junior skating party. Soon our class rings arrived, and somehow, they made us realize that the end of the journey wasn't quite so distant as we had imagined. We brought out the entire band to welcome back the team from Chicago, since our class boasted of four members on the varsity team. When the Seniors started work on the "Echo," we enthusiastically proceeded to edit the "Shamrock." After the strenuous pencil-chewing and brain-racking had ceased, we proudly published our first edition. As Prom time brought to an end our Junior festivities, we bloomed as brightly as the flowers in our corsages.

It was with tilted noses and superior airs that we came back in September as "sophisticated Seniors." With all the dignity of our position we elected our class officers and Student Council. "Shamrock" work absorbed our interest until a newer and brighter horizon was opened to us—the privilege of editing the "Echo." In January we honored the Sisters of Providence with "An Indiana Heroine," the most successful play ever presented at C.C. Early in May the entire class turned out to make even a greater success of "Youth Takes Over."

By the time Prom days rolled around we began to realize just what graduation really meant. Today the shadowy mist is clearing—the great day can easily be seen in the near future. We Seniors are facing crucial tests, difficulties we have never before known, in a world filled with turmoil and chaos, but, in accordance with our school motto, we'll be able to take our places in this great democracy—better citizens because we have learned to be better Catholics.

*Seniors Get Down

*A-a-a Chew!
But Not a Sneeze*

*Executives Some

As the time for graduation grows near, our hearts rightly possess a feeling of sadness, for we are about to depart from something that in days gone by has become so much a part of us—our school.

Yes, we are about to leave behind us those things that have helped us to realize so much happiness in the past—our friends, teachers, activities. We are now young men and young women about to enter onto a new section of the long, serious, road of endeavor. Let us not be sidetracked along the way from the highway that will gradually lead us to our final goal, but let us follow the route pointed out for us with the same diligence that we have learned to use in our pursuits in the last four years, and may happiness continue long after our destinations have been reached.

RICHARD HARTMAN.
